Build additional recurring revenue by reselling a fully managed hosted email and messaging service from messagehub

Can you currently or do you need to be able to offer fully managed and hosted:

- Microsoft Exchange Email
- Live Communication Server
- SharePoint Services
- Fax and SMS Solutions

Are your customers tired of being burdened by the capital cost, hassle and risk of an on-site solution?

Are you as a Reseller losing business because you do not have solutions that fit your customers needs?

If you can answer yes to any of the above then messagehub is a solution that will offer you and your customers complete peace of mind.

Join us at the seminar and learn how to increase your company's portfolio of offerings, with a white labelled solution from messagehub.

messagehub is a state-of-the-art, fully managed, hosted service that integrates into one product all the core values of electronic communication. At the vendor seminar you will learn how messagehub provides world-class email, messaging and collaborative solutions.

The presentation will cover how the messagehub reseller program enables partners to resell the messagehub service, complementing their product portfolio and creating new recurring revenue streams. You will see how this recurring revenue can be achieved by the reseller without the risk of having to build, manage and resource a hosted solution.

The seminar will be presented by Nigel Redwood, Managing Director of messagehub and eknow.net Limited. Nigel has been working within the IT hosting arena for 10 years and has been MD of e-know.net since 2003. Since 2000 e-know.net and Nigel have been heavily involved in developing software as a service within the IT industry and have worked together with Microsoft to build innovative solutions.
